

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air Stolen Honor, and not to -- at the very least -- balance it by showing a pro-Kerry movie, shows just how crazily lopsided and partisan and divided this country has become. It shows how making money is more important than fairness and the pursuit of truth, or showing both sides of issues.

Aren't you supposed to serve the public interest, and not those who line your pockets? We are moving so far from true democracy, that it feels lately as if we are all living in a modern-day version of "Animal Farm". where rights dwindle, accumulation of power is top priority, and some are more equal than others.

I am just one person, but I'm one less person who will be tuning in to my local Sinclair station.
